

Happy people enjoying great crabs.

Look at the size of those crabs!!!

Auctioneer Mike calls for a higher bid.

The Wong ladies, Naiad and Sandi, take a break to boost their appetite.

President Dave is in 7th heaven with the Miss Hawaii contestants who entertained us with their talent.

Rotary Club of Ala Moana Crab Fest Fund Raiser

Crabs, fun, crabs, silent auction, more crabs, live auction, even more crabs, fellowship, some more crabs, and an overall great time was had at our second annual Crab Fest on April 26, 2008. Over 340 people crowded into the cafeteria at Kapiolani Community College for a good old-fashioned crab eat. 1,000 pounds of fresh Dungeness crabs from the Inside Passage of Alaska were consumed that night, along with mouth-watering clam chowder, corn on the cob, salad, red potatoes and Portugese sausage, and ice cream for dessert (as if anyone could manage dessert after everything else!)

If you missed out on all this, plan to come next year. Contact any Ala Moana Rotarian to be sure you get your tickets. Many thanks to the Rotarians from other Clubs who came to our event to help make it a huge success. Proceeds will fund our community and international projects next Rotary year, enable our Club to continue its youth-oriented programs, and provide scholarships to the Culinary Arts Department of Kapiolani Community College.

Enjoy some pictures from that evening.

Okay, we're ready. Let the eaters in!

Okay, we're here. Bring on the crabs!!

MC Rich Courson greets the crowd. And the Meridian Jazz Band gets ready to play great music.

Don't just look, put a bid on those items!
